PPF film is a hydrophobic, transparent protective film. This PPF is applied over the marble tabletop and protects the surface against stains and scratches. It works through a hydrological nano-glass top layer that also has a self-healing property, causing scratches to disappear on their own. The film is available in either a glossy or matte finish. It is completely removable at any time and leaves no damage to your tabletop. Scratches on the film can be removed by gently blowing over it with a heat gun.
